

André HECK – Databases

Note: The year mentioned between parentheses indicates when the database became operational at the corresponding institution. Note that StarHeads, while maintained by myself till retirement from Strasbourg Observatory, was linked to the Astrophysics Data System (ADS) at Harvard's Center for Astrophysics. In other words, the results of every bibliographical query from the ADS resource pointed to StarHeads, enabling the retrieval of personal homepages for the authors of the papers listed. See also the directories, as well as the atlases & catalogues.
